

Brilliant Reception.

A beautiful reception was given by Miss Georgian Fletcher on Tuesday evening, in honor of her guests from the south, Misses Bowen and Millsaps.

This beautiful home in which elegance and comfort is charmingly combined, was exquisitely decorated for the occasion, which was one of beauty and pleasure.

The guests upon their arrival were received by Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher in the reception hall and after repairing to the dressing room, they were invited to the parlor, where they were received by Misses Fletcher, Bowen and Millsaps, M. F. Cooper, Theodore Mayer and Cliff B. Goodwin, who made a distinguished looking party indeed. After the greetings were over, the guests were ushered into the back parlor, that had been beautified with its decorations of golden rod and asparagus, which were banded at one end of the room, the asparagus being effectively draped over the long french window, making an artistic background for the pretty table from which coffee was served by Miss Frances Vawter and O. T. Goodwin.

The drawing room was done in yellow daisies, fresh from the field, with fine effect. Wheelon punch was served in this room from a table covered in asparagus, by Miss Dean Robertson and Dr. Ming.

Thistles prevailed in the dining room, where refreshments of violettes, cream and a variety of cake were served by Leonis, and with much good cheer and happy repartee, the evening passed, scoring another delightful function for Marshall's social world.

Miss Fletcher wore a beautiful pink silk gown with trimmings of pearl passementerie.

Miss Bowen appeared to an advantage in white organdie, trimmings of pink baby ribbon.

Miss Millsaps also received in a gown of white organdie over pink satin, with bow knots of lace, corsage bouquet of bridesmaid roses.

Miss Frances Wood Entertains.

Miss Frances Wood was at home in her usual hospitable and graceful manner, on Friday evening to a number of Marshall's young ladies and gentlemen.

The delightful affair was a compliment to Misses Bowen and Millsaps, the guests for some weeks of Miss Georgian Fletcher. The young ladies are quite popular in social circles and have been entertained in numerous ways, since the day of their arrival in the city.

The fair young hostess received her friends in an exquisite white silk gown brocaded in small blocks of green velvet, the bodice veiled in white chiffon. Miss Wood is the possessor of many beautiful works of art, collected in her travels, making the elegant home one of especial interest, an invitation to which is looked forward to with much pleasure.

Progressive Niloh was introduced which proved a novel and interesting pastime. There were 12 tables and much fun was the result of the game, that continued in interest throughout the evening. Mrs. A. A. Wallace, Frances Vawter and Pattie Page drew for the prize, Miss Vawter being the lucky one and received for her efforts a handsome cut glass toilet bottle.

Messrs Ben Striker, Frank Miles and H. Harvey drew for the gentleman's prize. Mr. Miles, who was born lucky, getting the winning straw, received a handsome leather card case. The presence of Mrs. Field of Dallas, Texas, was a pleasant feature of the evening.

Mrs. A. A. Wallace, a finished musician, favored the music loving ones with some lively instrumental selections.

After the game was over, the tables were laid in exquisite lunch cloths and an elegant luncheon, consisting of Arabian punch, nut sandwiches, chicken salad and olives was carefully served.

Wells-Frier.

Richard Wells and Iva Evans Frier, were married on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. B. T. Wharton performing the ceremony, at his residence on Capitol Hill. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Evans being present. The young couple returned to their home in South Marshall after the ceremony, where they will be at home to their friends.

The REPUBLICAN extends congratulations.

A New Teacher Elected

The school board met Monday evening, when they transferred Miss Nora Robertson, from the East building to the North, and elected Miss Lulu Mackey to take charge of the vacancy at the west building. Owing to the crowded condition of the school, it was necessary to have another teacher, hence Miss Mackey's appointment.

Family Reunion.

Mrs. Fannie Harrison who resides on Eastwood, celebrated her 77th birthday on Thursday. It has been a custom of Mrs. Harrison's for many years to gather her children and grandchildren about her upon this occasion, which is looked forward to with genuine pleasure by each member of the family. This year was no exception to the rule, in fact it seemed if anything, to be the happiest day for years.

A pleasant coincidence and one that increased the interest of the occasion is that Mrs. John Robertson's birthday, comes on the same day of the month as that of her mother and for years mother and daughter have celebrated it together. The elegant dinner was all that could have been desired and a number of lovely presents were received and it was a happy event in the Harrison family. Those present were J. C. Harrison, wife and daughters Ruth and Edna, Mrs. John Robertson and daughters, Fannie and Inez and son Albert of Mt. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander of Napton, Mrs. Belle Alexander of Bates Co., William Harrison and Mrs. E. J. Alexander of Marshall.
